5 Identifying intact and relict rock glaciers

Solutions:

Characteristics of intact and relict rock glachiers

Characteristics	intact	relict
The surface is distinctly devided into furrows and ridges.	YES	YES*
The margin of the rock glacier is formed by a steep high slope.	YES	NO
The surface of the rock glacier is dominated by large blocks.	YES	NO
On the rock glacier there are areas with vegetation cover.	NO	YES
In the vicinity of the rock glacier a close vegetation cover exists.	NO	YES

Annotations

* On relict rock glaciers furrows and ridges usually are more pronounced than on intact ones.

 On one of the relict rock glaciers there are only single large blocks.